Deloitte Technology Consulting's STEM Initiative presents: Deloitte Proposal Introduction

Friday, March 27th, 2015

2:30 pm – 5:00 pm, Location: 122 Mendoza College of Business

Come see what generates consultants' work and keeps Deloitte growing!

Are you curious to see how a consulting project begins? Deloitte Consulting's STEM Initiative (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math) will be hosting an event to give students a real world example of how Technology practitioners are first engaged to solve complex business issues, and show how STEM majors are poised to contribute. This event will showcase Deloitte's ability to address client needs – sometimes before clients even know they exist. This is your chance to learn firsthand how Technology consultants interact with clients to build a proposal and formulate an innovative solution.

Join us for this exciting opportunity!

The event will consist of an informational session and interactive proposal workshop. Practitioners will remain after the event to answer any questions about life at Deloitte.

Please send an email to Kerry Brennan (kebrennan@deloitte.com) or Matt Brittan (mabrittan@deloitte.com) with name, year, and major if you are interested in attending this event; registration is limited to the first 30 students that RSVP.

We look forward to seeing you!
